Attachment A

On September 29, 2018, Homeland Security Investigations (HSI), McAllen, Texas, received a phone call from Customs and Border Protection Officers (CBPO) at the Pharr, Texas Port of Entry about a vehicle suspected to be loaded with narcotics. During an x-ray inspection of the vehicle, anomalies were discovered within the vehicle's seats.

That vehicle was being driven by Alberto ORTEGA-Lopez, a Mexican national, as he attempted to make entry into the United States from Mexico.

During a physical inspection of the vehicle, CBPOs discovered several packages which field-tested positive for the characteristics of methamphetamine with a total weight of 32.32 kilograms.

CBPO Task Force Officer Ana Aguilera and HSI Special Agent Isidro Martinez responded to interview ORTEGA-Lopez. During the interview, ORTEGA-Lopez made several inconsistent statements about his travel plans. ORTEGA-Lopez stated he agreed to cross the vehicle containing what he believed to be an illegal substance into the United States, and deliver it to unknown individuals in Houston, Texas in exchange for monetary gain. ORTEGA-Lopez stated he was to contact an unknown individual in Mexico once he successfully crossed the port of entry and again after he successfully crossed the United States Border Patrol Checkpoint on his way to Houston, Texas. ORTEGA-Lopez stated he did not know exactly what he was transporting, but suspected it was drugs because he was to be paid $700 for such an easy job.

ORTEGA-Lopez admitted to having made similar trips to Houston, Texas in the past and delivering the vehicle to unknown individuals in exchange for a $700 payment.
